Dear Parents,

Happy Friday! Although the weather does not feel like spring the flurry of activity this time of year truly reminds me that spring has sprung and shockingly we only have five more weeks of this school year! Progress reports for grades 5-8 should be arriving home today. Please look over these with your child and help them develop a plan of action for finishing the year strong. This guidance and encouragement will certainly set them up for success!

The closing of our Scrip and Service Hour year is also approaching (April 30th). We have a work day scheduled for this coming weekend with Mr. Palacios and Mrs. Brownlee has communicated other service hour opportunities available through April 30th so if you are finding yourself short on hours please make sure to take advantage of those before next Friday. We also have opportunities in May to get started on service hours for next year so look out for those to come!

We have had some questions in regard to protocols this year for First Communion and Graduation. We had been waiting on tier announcements on Tuesday to help us with our communication. Unfortunately we still find our county in the red tier ☹️. We will be moving forward with planning our First Communion under the red tier guidelines and Mrs. Reynolds will communicate those to her class next week. Mrs. Marsalek and I are finalizing plans and will be sending out info to 8th grade next week as well. Our tier status may change before the May 28th date and we will be factoring that into our planning. The diocese is requiring us to submit a graduation plan to them for approval on May 12th. If any changes/amendments occur after that submission we will communicate with the 8th grade families accordingly. If I have learned anything this year it is to expect the unexpected, so thank you in advance with being patient with us if last minute adjustments need to be made.

Have a wonderful weekend!

Best,

Maureen Halderman
